PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I am passionate about software development, and I am currently self-learning online from Codecademy's full-stack engineering course. I have been building various projects in HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, which I have linked on this CV to my GitHub repositories, and my website is linked on this CV. I wish to take my learning to the next level through your Skills Bootcamps in Software Development. I will be a great candidate because I am enthusiastic and passionate about learning software development. From making my first computer at the age of eight to now learning how to code I have always been fascinated by computers. I have proven skills in project management from seven years managing a property business, I also have international experience working in America and Belgium.

WORK HISTORY

Manager, 08/2017 – 02/2024

Z Properties, London

- Seven years managing a family property portfolio of five houses.
- Responsibilities as manager included: preparing the yearly tax return, hiring, and managing builders for repairs and refurbishments on the houses, acquiring new and maintaining existing tenants, and dealing with tenant queries.
- I built positive relationships with my tenants to maintain the high standards of the company brand.
- Identified, planned, and implemented new real estate projects.
- Carried out refurbishments on the houses to increase profits by over 50% from the rent and saved the business money by building two kitchens by myself.
