

ALI ZAHID

SUMMARY

I am a young, ambitious worker hungry to learn and grow with international work experience, in the US and Belgium. I have run and managed a family property business for 8 years.

From making my first computer at the age of eight to now learning how to program I have always been fascinated by computers. I have been self-learning programming through Codecademy, Coursera and various other online resources. I enjoy learning computer programming and I am currently taking Codecademy's full-stack engineering course.

In my free time, I have been building various projects in HTML, CSS and JavaScript, and I wish to take my learning to the next level through your software developer apprenticeship, I believe I will be a great candidate because I am enthusiastic and hungry to keep progressing in software development.
